Human Resources — Virtual Sub-Team

Operating within the department's centralized leadership structure, my role as a Graphic Designer Intern focuses on driving targeted digital outreach and enhancing the overall candidate experience.

Core Focus

Talent Acquisition · Graphic Design & Visual Employer Branding

Impact

Every design asset aligns visually with the foundation's core community welfare mission.

04 — ROLES & RESPONSIBILITIES

What I Did

A graphic designer intern in an NGO creates visual media to help the organization share its mission and raise funds.

Social Media

Create posts for Instagram, Facebook, and LinkedIn.

Templates

Design reusable templates for staff.

Posters & Banners

Explain programs and calls to action.

Brand Consistency

Follow brand rules — right colors, fonts, and logos.

Brochures & Pamphlets

Design materials for community events.

Newsletters

Format updates for supporters on current projects.

Visual Communication Campaign

The main project was to develop a complete visual communication campaign promoting the NGO's social initiatives and creating public awareness.

Design social media posts, infographics, fundraising creatives, and event materials

Work closely with content and outreach teams to understand campaign objectives

Strengthen online presence, increase engagement, and communicate social impact

05 — MAIN PROJECT (CONTD.)

Fundraising Campaigns

Rakhi Campaign

Blanket Donations

Birthday Celebrations

Food Donations

Reflections

Challenges

1. Creating creative designs within limited resources
2. Understanding the NGO's campaign goals and requirements
3. Managing multiple design tasks and deadlines
4. Maintaining consistent branding across different designs

Lessons Learned

1. Focus on the message — clarity over glossy style
2. A simple, clear poster beats a complex, confusing one
3. Success = people who act, donate, or learn
4. Handle photos and stories of real people with dignity
5. Make great visuals with free tools and low-cost options

07 — CONCLUSION

Thank You

This internship helped me develop creative and professional skills through social media posts, posters, banners, awareness campaigns, fundraising creatives, and infographics. I improved my knowledge of design principles, typography, colors, layouts, and graphic design tools — and learned how design can drive social awareness.
